

Character Sketches for bitMONK:

Michael Bustello - Main character. Hacker. He's 16. Favorite rock group: Rusty Spike. Extremely bright, especially in mathematics. Loves Bama Pecan Pies. Uses the Grid world overlay on his Sabat.

David Bustello - Michael's grandfather and the original bitMONK. Very close to Michael. Descendent of Unity Divide. Something of a hippy. Now deceased. A cross between Jerry Garcia and Steve Wozniak.

Dick Bustello - Michael's father. Works in construction. Does not get along well with Michael. Thin, drinks beer and spends most of his time watching television.

Mary Bustello - Michael's mother. Not especially happy in her marriage, but hanging on. Gets along with Michael. Not the greatest cook in the world.

Kelly Krewp - Michael's girlfriend. Uses the MLP world overlay on her Sabat.

Danny Mack - Michael's friend at school. A little bit slow on the uptake, but a relatively nice guy. Becomes the nemesis!

Mr. Diamonte — Calculus teacher at school.

Billy PitcherPlant — "Retarded" kid who lives down the street. Works in the antique clock shop on Monte street. Expert in video files.

Mrs. Winkler — School secretary

Dr. Sarpinsky — Psychologist from childhood, and lock picking specialist.

Mickey — An ape from the zoo who "talks" to Michael about freedom.
